Are both sexes really equal today?

Gender equality means both sexes having the same rights and obligations, and everyone having the same opportunities in society. Gender equality is also about justice and about sharing responsibilities, both in the family and society. If gender prevents us from seeing the individual's strengths and weaknesses, this can lead to discrimination and limited opportunities for the individual. The idea of equity for all citizens, men and women, goes to the heart of democratic practice. Equity recognizes a woman's autonomy to determine her life's course. Achieving that goal will require us to adjust, disrupt and re-imagine how men, as well as women, live their lives.
